

Historic, Archive Document

Do not assume content reflects current scientific knowledge, policies, or practices.

EARLE DILATUSH'S HOLLY FARM

Robbinsville, New Jersey

PARCEL POST PRICE LIST

"Pig-in-a-Poke"

DILATUSH'S "Sure Thing"

Special $5.00 Offer

- Two pretty "Girl" Hollies
- One strong "Boy" Holly
- Named varieties "the best"
- Shipped in sturdy pots
- One year to 18 months of age
- 3 to 6 inches high
- Very hardy — nursery grown
- Growing in Oak Leafmold
- Parcel Post POSTPAID $5.00*

Did we say these Hollies were a "sure thing"? Well, "plant-magic" you might call it . . . These named variety "girl" Hollies can actually bear berries when they are a year old or at any age. (Although they truthfully do not bear every single year when they are young and growing—that's only natural).

DILATUSH'S "Pig-in-a-Poke"

$1.50 Offer

- Three cute little seedling Hollies
- Shipped in sturdy pots
- Well packed in special container
- 3 to 6 inches high
- Growing in Oak Leafmold
- One to two years of age
- Very hardy — Nursery grown
- Parcel Post POSTPAID $1.50*

Why "Pig-in-a-Poke"? It's quite a story: Seedling Hollies are not like animals. "Girl" Hollies cannot be told from "Boy" Hollies until they are old enough to bloom. Only "girl" Hollies have berries, but "boy" Hollies are necessary. Odds are, though, that in three Hollies you will have both "boy" and "girl" Hollies . . . the chances are just about the same as with children.

"Sure Thing"

*Prices 25c higher West of Mississippi River.

— Informative Booklet on Holly varieties and culture available, 12c in stamps —

